The Rhyme for this week

This week, we are learning Incy Wincy Spider. For your props at home, you could use straws for drainpipes and pom-poms or something fluffy for a spider.

How's the weather today?

Make yourself familiar with the weather songs on the power point (each picture has a different song that should play if you click on it). Have a look outside of your window, or you could do this after your daily mile, and click on the picture that you think the weather is like today. Try learning these new songs too!

PADLET DRIVE

Afternoon activity - Dough Disco

Start with a warm up for dough disco singing 'Tommy Thumb' and get those fingers moving. Then use your hands and fingers to roll, squeeze, pat, and stretch the play-dough. You could sing some songs to go with this (e.g. 'This is the way we pat the dough, pat the dough, pat the dough. This is the way we pat the dough, when we do dough disco.').

Reading - Our class story

This week, we will be continuing to read 'The Gingerbread Man'. We will mainly use this version in school, but you can choose any version that you like - there are lots to choose from on Youtube! Have a look to see if you have got any props at home to make this a sensory story (e.g. ginger to smell, water for the river, a fur jacket for the fox etc.).

Fine motor skills

This week, we are practising our threading skills. Have you got any old shoe laces at home? You could put small holes into cardboard or a piece of paper and practise threading the shoe laces through the holes.

Relaxation/ Mindfulness

It's time to relax! I have attached a sensory visual video of fish for you to watch at home with relaxing background music. Grab a blanket and get cosy!

Music time

Have you got any instruments at home? If not, then use your body to make music to the beat (clapping, tapping, clicking, stomping, humming, singing, etc.).

Sponge painting...

Have you got any old sponges at home to do some sponge painting? You could make a picture of a gingerbread house using different shape sponges.
